FNI AND LOW EMISSION BINDER COMPANIES INVITED TO PRESENT AT USEPA IN RESEARCH TRIANGLE PARK

On April 27, 2006, Jim Furness will participate in a meeting at USEPA in RTP, NC. The meeting will focus on ways to reduce emissions of hazardous air pollutants with the use of innovative technologies and low emission binders. Watch for recommendations from the meeting on this web site.

Call us to see if this newly designed system fits your foundry's needs
"PLUG AND PLAY" AAOP FOR SMALL TO MEDIUM FOUNDRIES

Please call and FNI will help bring your foundry into MACT compliance easily and economically

FNI uses water treatment principles to upgrade the foundry's cupola wet scrubber system. Chances are you don't have to install baghouses in order to comply with MACT standards for metal HAP emissions. FNI worked closely with two major iron foundries and achieved MACT with minimal capital outlay.
